President's Corner By Ken Clark

Spring is finally upon us. (I realize our winters are nothing compared to back East, but it's still special to see budding trees and greening lawns.) And this is a perfect time to spruce up the Z car for a run or two as the temps warm up. Ann Devor got the club off to a good start with her CONTRA COSTA (MYSTERY TOUR) CRUISE on March 15. (To see where the event went check out page 5 of this issue.)

Z owners can look forward to three events in April, beginning with a brand new one on April 11th, in Southern California. SoCal Z is sponsoring Z DAY CALIFORNIA, PISMO BEACH. <http://allevents.in/pismo%20beach/z-day-california-official/746554978764143> It appears pre-registration ended March 1st, but it may still be fun to take a drive south and check it out. Curtis Lewis is leading a tour to the event on April 10th. Here's his e-mail: curtislewis@surewest.net.

Thanks to our own Bob Jenkins, (and a few others), you can enjoy the EMPIRE SPORTS CAR ASSOCIATION's 51st ANNUAL APRIL FOOLS RALLYE. It's not a speed test, but rather a challenge to see which driving teams can best follow instructions and identify pertinent signs and situations along the route.

Reading their flyer (on page 4 of this issue) I'd say the only April Fools joke about this is the date. It's scheduled April 12th, not April 1st, as one might expect. The fact you'll have a fun day is no joke. And the best part -- their profits go to CANINE COMPANIONS FOR INDEPENDENCE.

April 25th, the place to be for all things Z is Orange, California. That will be the 20th gathering of the MOTORSPORT AUTO Z-CAR WEST COAST NATIONALS, also known as "Z-BASH 2015" by the in-crowd and "MSA". There is no pre-registration. According to their website, you just need to "Drive it, Trailer it, Tow it, Push it, or chopper it in, but get it here and have an awesome day." You'll find Z's on display, Z's for sale, a garage sale, Dynojet dyno runs, and free food. Now that's my idea of a perfect day. If you're interested, check out their website: www.thezstore.com/page/TZS/CTGY/WCN.

The excitement doesn't end here. ZONC has planned a general meeting for May 17th, at VALLEJO NISSAN, 3287 Sonoma Blvd., Vallejo. The meeting starts at 10 A.M. and every member is invited. We're even sweetening the deal by holding a free ice cream social hosted by Vallejo Nissan. Hope to see you there!

Finally, a safety tip you should never get "tired" of hearing... Know your tires' optimal pressure and check them often (when the tires are cold). Underinflated tires can lose their shape and wear unevenly. They can adversely affect your steering and increase your chances of blowouts. Overinflated tires can also compromise handling and make for a rough ride full of vibration. And they are more susceptible to damage from hitting pothole and striking curbs.

Hearst Castle Run

By Mary Rozmajzl

On a fog shrouded morning in mid February, Ken Clark led a caravan of ZONC members to the HEARST CASTLE in San Simeon, CA. Initially there was a concern the low visibility would challenge any attempts to keep the group together. (The last car could barely be seen from the lead car.) But as the miles passed and the fog lifted, the news was good. The final car -- Ruffin and Lois Apperson's 350Z -- could be seen in Ken's rear view mirror. OK, the Apperson's Z was the only other car on the HEARST RUN. But, that just made for a very intimate affair.

And it was a great chance for everyone to get to know each other. As mentioned, the run was to the HEARST CASTLE – creation and play ground of the famous newspaper tycoon, William Randolph Hearst. In the spirit of news gathering, Lois and Ruffin shared historical news about their ancestors.

Ruffin is, in fact, related to the Hearst Family though William Randolph's paternal grandmother, Phoebe Elizabeth

APPERSON Hearst. Even more amazing... Ruffin's great, great, great grandfather, Edmund Ruffin, a 67 year old Virginia plantation owner, fired the first shot at FORT SUMTER in 1861, to start the Civil War.

Lois also counts American patriots in her family tree. Two of them paid the ultimate price as they fought alongside James Bowie and Davey Crocket at the Alamo.

History lessons continued the second day of our run, as the ZONC group toured a lesser-known landmark near San Simeon, namely the PIEDRAS BLANCAS LIGHT STATION. The lighthouse was built in 1874 to assist central coast whaling ships and cargo ships that sailed up the California coast to San Francisco, hauling supplies to all those prospectors caught up in the gold rush. The information-packed, 2-hour tour of the grounds and buildings featured native plants, land and marine animals, historical events and restoration efforts.

The one significant landmark missing from the light station is the lighthouse lantern. The top 30 feet of the lighthouse including the lantern have been removed for restoration. Lois and Ruffin found the lantern on display in downtown Cambria, about 15 miles down the coast.

A piece of trivia... PIEDRAS BLANCAS (white stones) got its name from Spanish explorers because of the white rock outcroppings in the nearby ocean. The rocks' white color comes from the centuries of birds living and, well, relieving themselves on the rocks. History in the making, every day.

Ken and Mary also found natural history on display at the PIEDRAS BLANCAS ELEPHANT SEAL ROOYKERY. Here, hundreds of mama seals are currently nursing their young amidst 3,000 pound males blustering and challenging one another for the privilege of winning a female's attention and a chance to "carry on the family name." Amazing how 1 ½ ton males can be so nimble when courtship is the prize.

The night was topped off with a bonfire marshmallow roast by the ocean. The waves were spellbinding that night and throughout our entire time along the shore. It was particularly pleasant to listen for waves breaking on shore as we nodded off to sleep.

During the trip, Ken made a little history of his own. His 1970 240Z's odometer rolled through 250,000 miles while in San Simeon. A quarter of a million miles, and Ken says he's just breaking that Porsche red beauty in.

Mystery Tour to Mt. Hamilton

By Ann Devor

On the eve of California's fourth year of drought, it seemed like a safe bet to plan a trip to the top of Mt. Hamilton. But Mother Nature has been known to play cruel tricks and a dusting of snow from a March storm has happened in years past. Yet again, Rob Fuller had never been to the top of Mt. Hamilton in the 10 years, now almost 11, since he started up ZCAR GARAGE, so it was a must-do item. I'd been trying to set it up for the past 4 years, always in the summertime, but the calendar always started getting tight every April and it hadn't happened. So this year, forget about Contra Costa – we'd do the Cruise in Santa Clara and Alameda Counties and try for a little weather magic. And so it was on March 15 – the NOT EXACTLY CONTRA COSTA CRUISE MYSTERY TOUR.

The ride up to the LICK OBSERVATORY on Mt. Hamilton climbs 4200 feet in 18.5 miles via switchbacks, hairpin turns on blind curves, few guardrails and no emergency parking. It can snow up there and the road can get icy. Combine that with a few bicyclists (and there's always a nasty one) on a very narrow road, ridiculously divided by a double yellow down the middle, and you have a difficult and thrilling drive. Fourteen Zcars (including a classic right hand drive Skyline) made the way up to the top and lo and behold, a line of seven GT-Rs was waiting to greet us! After meeting the drivers and watching them take off, Jack Atkinson deployed his new PHANTOM II drone and took spectacular footage of the towering observatories with all of us and our cars in the parking lot below. See it on YouTube at www.youtube.com/watch?v=YPylrw-wrQU.

Back in our cars, on we drove down the steep curves on San Antonio Road to the valley behind the observatories. While the day was a little hazy, there was plenty of blue sky and sunshine to light up the wildflowers along the roadway. We stopped again briefly at THE JUNCTION where a group of motorcyclists had already parked. Off we went again on Mines

Mystery Tour

Rd. past some beautiful ranches and other eclectic hang-outs in the hills. Then like a scene from a time machine, some horseless carriages with gleaming brass fittings appeared, putt-putting up the road toward us. When we arrived at the Alameda County line, Mines Rd. changed to a single lane, less maintained roadway and we crossed a couple of shallow creeks flowing over the pavement.

We made our way down to Livermore and drove past Concannon's vineyards rather quickly. Soon we were parking in front of Melo's restaurant and enjoying a nice lunch together after a fine day on country back roads.

Many thanks to Rob Fuller for hosting us in the morning at ZCAR GARAGE for our start. As always ZCG is the perfect place to start a ride and Rob is always a gracious host. And many thanks to all of the excellent drivers and patient passengers who took the MYSTERY TOUR challenge: Jack and Yolanda ("Tailgunner") Atkinson, Michael Dalpoggetto, Rob Fuller, Paul Gommel, Jason Green and Trisha Green, Rob and Jill Hutter, Bob and Marci Jenkins, new members Horacio and Veronica Martin, Jacob Mattson and Katie Nelson, Warren Schlichter and Greg Haney, Lou Strickland, Wade Warren and daughter Dylan, Roger Bramble and son, and Fred and Loretta Brooks. Having all of us on the road together made it a very special day!

女人的奇妙反應

30th Years Ago In ZNEWS

By Bob Jenkins

It was an APRIL FOOLS issue with the cover written all in Japanese.

In A VIEW FROM THE TOP by President Bob Topper there was a picture of him with fake nose and grasses. Bob stated that due to the decline of the members that are continuing their membership in ZONC, negotiations were taking place with some of Nissan's top brass to help curb the situation. Some possibilities being discussed were: 1. have Nissan pay half the dues; 2. have an advertising campaign on newspaper, radio and TV; 3. have Nissan sponsor tours and events and trips to Japan; 4. enable Z Club members to purchase new Z cars direct from Nissan without paying for dealership cost. After which, Bob explained that "Yes, this was an APRIL FOOLS joke".

A V.P VOICE article by Vice President John Condon was also full of more APRIL FOOLS items, such as a tour to Japan to tour the factory that produced the 300ZX for America.

A GEE's SPOT article by editor Ray Gee had pictures of the editor and two contributing editors with fake noses and glasses in police profile with numbers on their chest. He also reminded everyone that not everything they read would be an APRIL FOOLS joke.

A WHAT'S NEW article talked about the "Ultimate Z Car Security" and a "Tire Technology Advance" and a "New Bra For Z Cars" and finally a "New Book On Z Cars" called "100 Ways to Monkey with your Z" and "yes", they were all APRIL FOOLS jokes.

A TECH TIP - OIL CHANGE article by Ray Gee talked about when and how to change your oil and was a full page long and at the end he said: "Seriously folks, this tech tip column was written as an APRIL FOOLS joke".

A full-page flyer for THE ULTIMATE Z TOUR a three day tour to YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, MONTEREY AQUARIUM, and then it was off to Truckee, and then it was off to Nome, Alaska and the cost was only $7,852.85 per couple and "yes", it was also an APRIL FOOLS joke.

There was a full page flyer for a HEARST CASTLE TOUR this trip was for real.

Another APRIL FOOLS joke was of what they said was a picture of the new Nissan 3000ZX 4x4, but was really a Nissan forklift.

There were also two pages of articles and dates for the 1985 autocross season and they were for real.
